

Appropriate care in hospitals for people with dementia answers

1. B
2. False, dementia is a syndrome that can be caused by a variety of progressive mental disorders. Alzheimer's disease is the most common type of dementia, but is by no means the only one.
3. B
4. D
5. C
6. D
7. True, this means that whilst the patient may be receiving first-class medical treatment for their illness, their mental health related needs can be neglected.
8. C
9. D
10. A
11. True, the Government announced these plans in March 2016 for the Care Quality Commission.