What else you should know...

An excess of £25 applies for all claims for cancellation or curtailment. The Cancellure policy does not have any exclusions for pre-existing medical conditions but if you are in any doubt, you can give Rothwell & Towler a call on 0845 90 80 171.

The cancellation cover commences from the date your premium is received and your policy is issued. The remaining covers apply for the period of the course but in any event not exceeding the period of cover for which your premium has been paid. Your Certificate of Insurance will cover everyone in your party for whom the premium has been paid.

This is only a summary of the insurance. Your Certificate of Insurance will have full details of the policy terms, conditions and exclusions, together with the complaints procedure and 14-day money back guarantee. A copy is available from Rothwell & Towler on request.

If you require insurance for your accommodation expenses that do not form part of your course costs then please call our team.

Cancellation and curtailment protection from Cancellsure

Now that you have booked your course, it's time to think about making sure your investment in learning is protected. What if something unexpected happens? Cancelling a booking, especially at the last minute, can be costly. You can usually expect to lose your deposit and, in some cases, you may even be expected to pay the whole cost. After all, your booking is a legally binding contract. So what would happen if you, your partner or a family member falls ill, your home floods or you are called for jury service? The answer lies in Cancellsure.

If you are forced to cancel your course, pull out at the last minute or cut it short we'll meet the cost of the pre-booked fees. In some cases we'll also pay for unexpected additional expenses if you have to return home early.

No age limit or health restrictions

We don't demand health screening or set an age limit on our policies so anyone can get the peace of mind they deserve from a Cancellsure course insurance policy. Even if you have a pre-existing medical condition or are on a hospital waiting list we'll still cover you at no extra cost.

Cover for all courses

Cancellsure protection can protect any type of course. So whether you are heading off for a cookery course, attending summer school or planning to learn a new skill at a residential centre, we'll cover it. Please see our banded premium table to work out your premium for your age and the cost of the course you are attending.
